Presidents McKinley and Dole Make Calls Upon Each Other.

The Diplomatic Corps Entertained by the President and Mrs. McKinley—Secretary and Mrs. Sherman Assist in Receiv. ing-Postal Savings Bank Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. - Secretary Long said Wednesday that he had received no notice from the Spanish minister or from any other source that Spanish men-of-war have been ordered to visit United States ports. They were perfectly welcome to come and go as they please, he said, and as far as he was concerned he would be delighted to have them come.

Spanish warships have frequently visited the United States since the insurrectionary movement broke out in Cuba three years ago without having excited the least unfriendly comment and there was no reason why any significance should be attached to their coming again whenever they felt disposed to do so.

The President and Mrs. McKinley entertained the diplomatic corps Wed nesday night at the first state dinner of the season. Contrary to the usual custom Secretary of State and Mrs. Sherman assisted in receiving the guests in the east room. The decorations of the state dining room consisted largely of roses and orchids. Alternate placques of these flowers were laid the length of the table. The mantels were banked with cut flowers, roses hyacinths and carnations, while a profusion of smilax was draped above the doors and cobweb-like from the ceiling and chandeliers. The window spaces were filled with palms and rubber plants.

President Dole of Hawaii, arrived here at 2:20 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and in behalf of the government was welcomed to the national capitol by Secretary Sherman and Assistant Secretary Adee. The presidential party was belated by storms along the way and it was three hours after the scheduled time that the train swung 'into the Baltimore & Ohio depot. A crowd of several hundred had assembled on north Capitol street and three platoons of mounted policemen were on hand who acted as an escort.

Mr. Sherman offered his arm to Mrs. Dole and escorted her to President Mc-Kinley's carriage. The platoons of officers wheeled about, the spirited bays of the white house carriage stepped off at a lively gait, and the party proceeded to the Arlington, where the Hawalian executive will be the nation's guest. In the second carriage were Minister Hatch, of Hawaii, Assistant Secretary Cridler, and Mr. Dole's private secretary.

Following this was the carriage of Asssistant Secretary Adee and Dr. Day, the physician of Mr. Dole. The fourth carriage contained Maj. Hiestand, representing the army, Lieut. Commander Phelps, the navy. There was no military display, democratic simplicity being observed at Mr. Dole's request.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 .- President Mc-Kinley's call on President Dole Wednesday afternoon was entirely formal and did not last longer than 15 minutes. He was accompanied by Mr. Porter and Col. Bingham, and was met by Assistant Secretary Cridler and Mr. Hatch, the Hawaiian minister, who introduced them to President Dole, Mrs. Dole and the other members of the party. After a mutual exchange of courtesies President McKinley returned to the white house.

At 4:15 Dole returned the visit of President McKinley. He drove over to the white house in a magnificently appointed carriage in company with Minister Hatch and Assistant Secretary Cridler. His private secretary, Maj. laukea, with Maj. Heistand and Lieutenant Commander Phelps and Dr. Day, followed in another carriage. At the entrance to the white house the visitor was met by Col. Bingham, and the party was led at once by him to the elevator, whence they were soon transferred to the library on the second floor. There President Mc-Kinley was in wating and gave his guest a greeting. After a few words view of offsetting Jingo speeches in go to New Orleans and also make a of general conversation, the two presidents retired to a couch in one corner of the room and spent about five minutes in consultation. It was said that this talk was purely unofficial and personal. Then the party was escorted

This was done because of the fact that there were a large number of measures before the committee, all looking to the same end. It is intended that the bill to be prepared by Messrs. Mason and Butler shall supplant all these and they were requested to have it in shape to be taken up at the next meeting to be held a week hence.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.-Statehood legislation at this session was killed Wednesday by the house committee on territories rejecting the Arizona. New Mexico and Oklahoma bills by a vote of eight to three. The first two measures were bunched and defeated. Then the Oklahoma bill was taken up and beaten by the same vote. The Coal Operators and Miners Adjust Their Differences.

an Advance of 10c Per Ton.

They Also Get a Uniform Day of Eight Hours at a Uniform Day Wages—A Uniform Flat Screen of One-Fourth Inch Space Between Bars to Be Used.

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.-The interstate joint convention of bituminous coal operators and miners came to an end at 10 o'clock Wednesday night. The to nearly 200,000 soft coal miners an advance of ten cents per ton and a uniform day of eight hours at uniform day wages. And the operators congratulated one another with a victory over themselves.

The following are the resolutions adopted with but two dissenting votes: Resolved, That an advance of ten cents per ion for mining screened coal take effect in the Western Pennsylvania district. Hocking Valley (O.) district, and Indiana bituminous district, the first day of April, 1898, and that a relative run of mine price be determined in al the districts named by a uniform flat or Akronshaped bar screen of 72 feet superficial area, one and oue-fourth inch space between the bars; that the price of run of mine coal in Grape creek district and in the Indiana bituminous district be 40 cents per ton for the same district, based upon 66 cents in Pittsburgh thin vein district and that in Hocking Valley and Indiana; and that on and after April 1, 1898, the eight hour day shall be in effect in all districts here represented; that uniform wages for day labor shall be paid the different classes of labor in the field named; and that internal differences in any of the states, both as to price and conditions, shall be referred to the states affected; that we further agree to the use of the diamond bar scree of the present pattern in the block district of Indiana, with the privilege of run of mine, as may be desired by the market conditions.

The convention completed its work by naming a scale committee, to consist of the national executive board of mine workers, the district presidents and secretaries and two operators from each state to tabulate the scale and perfect all the arrangements for putting it into effect on the date set. It was determined that hereafter the miners and operators will meet in January each year to fix a scale for the 12 months beginning April 1. Pittsburgh, Pa., was selected for the next annual joint convention, which will meet on the third Tuesday of January, 1899.

The scale committees final report as outlined above, was presented at the afternoon session and with it came the protests of two Hocking Valley operators, Messrs Morton and Ellsworth They insisted upon a differential being established between their scale and that of the thin vein of Pennsylvania and quoted masses of statistics to show that if the plan were put into operation Hocking Valley mines would be compelled to close down in face of competition from Pittsburgh and West Virginia. Operator Robbins, of Pennsylvania, finally proposed that the question of differential in favor of the Hocking valley district be left to arbitrembling or shaking motion, and not tration. This was at once accepted by by the usual swaying and waving mo the Hocking Valley operators, but tion. Telephone messages from coun- brought out a demand from the operatry points indicate that the shock was tors of Ohio outside the Hocking valley that they be included in the arbitration and be allowed a differential as well.

ADJOURNMENT

Taken by the Monetary Convention Subject to Call.

A Set of Resolutions adopted, After Two Hours' Discussion.

They Recognize the Convention's Obligations to the Executive Committee and Approve the Plan of Carrener Reform as Recently Submitted.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 37.-The monetary convention convened at 10 'elock Wednesday.

Pending the report of the committee on resolutions, the secretary read a number of telegrams from the various commercial bodies of the country, enlorsing the plan of the commission.

E. J. Parker, of Illinois, presented a Parker, of Illinois, presented a resolution approving the efforts of the National Business league to forward the movement for the establishment of a national department of commerce and industries, the head of which shall be a member of the cabinet.

Charles S. Fairchild, ex-secretary of the to assure, delivered a speech. National Business league to forward the movement for the establishment of a national department of commerce and industries, the head of which shall the treasury, delivered a speech.

At the conclusion of Mr. Fairchild's address a motion was made and carried that when the convention adjourn it be subject to the call of the executive committee. Permanent Chairman Shaw leclared that "this convention never adjourns," and E. O. Stannard, of Misouri, took the gavel to preside.

The next speaker was Congressman Jesse Overstreet, of the Indianapolis district, who introduced the monetary vill into congress. Mr. Overstreet. commended the commission's work. This is not the time for stopping this movement," said he.

Mr. Overstreet thought the bill would receive the thorough attention of conress and said that Speaker Reed would in no way retard its careful consideration. "If we are defeated," saul he "we shall not be conquered."

Mr. Wheelock, of Minnesota, chairman of the committee on resolutions isked John C. Bullitt, of Philadelphia, to read the resolutions. The resolutions recognize the convention's obligations to the executive committee and cordially approve the plan of currencey reform submitted by the commission which is set out as follows: "I. To remove, at once and forever, all doubt as to what the standard of value in the United states is, and is to be

"2. To establish the credit of the United states at the bighest point among the nations of the world.

"3 To eliminate from our currency system those features which reason and experience show to be elements of weakness and danger. "4 To provide a paper currency convertible into gold and equal to it in value at all times and places, in which, with a volume adequate to the general and usual needs of business. there shall be combined a quality of growth and elasticity through which it will adjust itself automatically and promptly to all varia tions of demand, whether sudden or gradual, and which shall distribute itself throughout the country as the wants of different sections may require. '5 To so utilize the existing silver dollars as to maintain their parity with gold without in posing undue burdens upon the treasury "6. To svoid any injurious contraction of the gency; but to confer the power to issue bonds when necessary for the preservation of the credit of the government.

8 To accomplish these ends by a plan which would lead from our present confused and uncertain situation by gradual and progressive steps, without shook or violent change. to a monetary system which will be thorough ly safe and good and capable of growth to any extent that the country may require.

Approving of the expressed purposes of the commission, and of its plans, we do most earnestly and cordially commend it to our fellowcitizens as worthy of their approval and adop tion, and we urge upon the congress of the United States that the principles embodied by the commission in their report should be enacted into law with the belief and expectation that the effect would be to secure a solid, substantial and stable financial system that would redound to the credit of the country and insure a state of prosperity that can not be achieved unless there is a system of finance, the integrity and adaptability of which can not be questioned or gainsaid. The time has now come when the prospects for the establishment of the gold standard upon a firm and enduring basts are brightening and encouraging. The people brightening and encouraging. The people want a note currency which shall be as good as gold. This movement proposes to bring about that result."

The people want a "volume of currency adequate to the general and usual needs of busiiess, with a quality of growth and elasticity through which it will adjust itself automatically and promptly to all variations of demand, whether sudden or gradual."

The people of the western and southern states wish the Issues so distributed as that the searcity of currency will no longer humper and distress them in their business operations. A method is proposed whereby their wants can be supplied and their demands can be compiled. We appeal to them-we appeal to all patriotic citizens to unite with us in an earnest and determined effort to secure from congress such legislation as will wisely but surely eventuate in bringing about sound financial methods, and in building up and establishing confidence, se-curity and safety in business transactions and in the ownership and value of property.

That the executive committee be continued, with power and authority to add to their num-ber and to fill any vacancies which may occur, and also with power and authority adopt such measures for procuring the needed legislation from congress as they, in their judgement, may deem advisable and expedient.

At 2 o'clock, after two hours of favorable debate, the resolutions were unanimously adopted. The convention adjourned subject to the call of the executive committee.
